Measure Up

With poster board, custom growth charts are as limitless as she is. Adhere your fave patterns to foam board (use multiple pieces to get the size you need), cut out designs using a craft knife, and mark height increments with washi tape and dimensional stickers.

Smart Space

For a study nook that shines bright with personality, use glitter and gold-foil poster board. We mounted ours—cut into letters and stars—on foam board and painted the edges. Then, to ace the look, we sewed punched poster board into everso-sturdy garlands.

On The Cover

Replace a frame's glass with foam board-mounted poster board, and then embellish with painted corkboard pieces and spiral-cut poster board rolled into flowers.

Bedroom Beauty

On Target

Way to Display

When shelves go from holding decor to being decor (and the focal point of the room, no less!), you know you're doing something right. Cut poster board to fit the back and inside walls of your shelves (securing with double-sided tape) and brighten up shelf edges with a gold leafing pen.
